

The page contains ten blank musical staves, each with a treble clef (C1) on the left side. The staves are arranged vertically, one above the other, and are completely empty, intended for the student to write musical notation.